PBN announces 40 Under Forty winners

By PBN Staff

PROVIDENCE – During a ceremony last night at Save The Bay's headquarters in Field's Point, Providence Business News celebrated its 2007 40 Under Forty honorees.

This is the third year PBN has held the event, which recognizes young members of the state's business and nonprofit communities for career success, community involvement and a commitment to making a difference.

Joining PBN Publisher Roger C. Bergenheim and Editor Mark S. Murphy at the podium were Frank Casale, senior vice president for Sovereign Bank in Rhode Island and John Martin, director of marketing and communications at Save The Bay. In addition, Providence Mayor David N. Cicilline congratulated the winners for their contributions to the city and the state.

The honorees of the Class of 2007 included 22 men and 18 women. They (and their employers) are:

- Eric Anderson, Enviro-Clean Inc.
- Todd Blount, Blount Seafood Inc.
- Tia Bush, Amgen
- Michael Camacho, Lefkowitz, Garfinkel, Champi & DeRienzo
- Gianfranco Campanella, Mediterraneo
- Douglas Caniglia, DCI Construction Inc.
- Anna Cano-Morales, The Rhode Island Foundation
- Michele Caprio, Greater Providence Board of Realtors
- Jennifer Cervenka, Partridge, Snow & Hahn LLP
- Mike Chea, International Institute of Rhode Island
- Stacie Collier, Nixon Peabody LLP
- Laura DaLomba, Kahn, Litwin; Renza & Co, Ltd.
- Kas DeCarvalho, Kaslaw LLC
- Sussy DeLeon, Re/Max New Horizons
